To Whom It May Concern,

It is my privilege to write this recommendation for Miss Bree Wiley. I have had the blessing of knowing Bree for most of her life and can speak with confidence about her character, her testimony, and her calling.

Bree has consistently demonstrated a life dedicated to honoring the Lord. Her walk with God is evident in her words and actions, and her testimony is above reproach. She comes from a rich family heritage of truth and fundamentalism, and she has personally embraced those values, living them out with sincerity and conviction.

During her high school years, Bree answered the call to missions. Through prayer, wise counsel, and personal preparation, she has steadily pursued that calling with maturity and faith. After gaining teaching experience, she sought the Lord's guidance about where He would have her serve. The Lord led her to Belize, where He gave her peace and assurance that this was His will. Her mission board has now accepted Bree, and she is preparing to begin deputation.

I have no hesitation in recommending Bree to you as a servant of Christ. She is dedicated, faithful, and wholly committed to advancing the Gospel. I believe she will be an effective missionary, both in her testimony and in her teaching ministry. Any church or pastor who invests in her will be supporting a life given over to the Lord's service.

Yours for the harvest,

John O'Malley
